THE UNNATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

Enter this rare exhibition where you will encounter unusual curiosities, living attractions and extraordinary experiments in human evolution. A paradigm shift awaits you! Gather at the SMC Clock Tower where histories of gender don't have to repeat, social roles are reversed before your eyes, and you can discover how to unlock the code and go back-to-the-future you. This performance art presentation is a collaboration between One Mile and SMC Public Policy Institute Interns. onemileofchange.org

Thu, November 16, 11:15 a.m. – 12:35 p.m. | Free | SMC Clock Tower

WOMEN, GENDER, POWER – BREAKING BARRIERS IN ENTERTAINMENT AND POLITICS

Kim Masters is Editor at Large of The Hollywood Reporter and host of KCRW's The Business. Author, award-winning journalist for multiple publications, and talk-show host, Masters is respected as an important source of the news in the entertainment industry.

Korin Huggins is the Chief Executive Officer for Kronicle Media, a company she co-founded to create content for and about women from diverse perspectives. Huggins has established an award-winning career as a television producer.

Wendy Greuel served as the City Controller of the City of Los Angeles from 2009 to 2013, only the second woman to win a city-wide office in L.A., and as a Member of the Los Angeles City Council. She also was a candidate for Mayor of Los Angeles in 2013 and for Congress in 2014. Her political career followed five years at Dreamworks SKG, where she advised Steven Spielberg, Jeffrey Katzenberg and David Geffen.

This discussion will cover the current climate in Hollywood and in politics, and the challenges women in both fields face to break barriers and to break stories.

Speaker: Korin Huggins

Moderator: Wendy Greuel
