

SANTA MONICA
COLLEGE A Course of Study for ARCHITECTURE

This program explores architecture through cultural, environmental, and social relevance while understanding and addressing critical issues facing the built environment. Innovative design, critical analysis, and communication skills are developed in drawing, writing, modeling, and collaboration. Students completing the AS degree may apply for transfer to a University program in Architecture, Interior Architecture, or Environmental Design or obtain an entry level position in the same fields.

Note: in addition to meeting academic requirements for admittance into a university, Architecture Programs also require prospective students to submit a portfolio to review for admittance into the program. It is recommended that students make an appointment with counselors at the institution of their choice to inquire about requirements.

After completion of this Architecture program, California students have the option to pursue a license in architecture through the NCARB internship process.

See the Interior Architectural Design Program Website (www.academy.smc.edu/intarc) for additional information.

TRANSFER PREPARATION

Many colleges/universities offer baccalaureate degrees in this field. Students planning to transfer to a four-year college or university should complete the lower-division major requirements and the general education pattern for the specific transfer institution. SMC has articulation agreements with the many UC and CSU campuses, as well as several private and out-of-state institutions.

Exact major requirements for UC and CSU campuses can be found online at assist.org.

A listing of private, nonprofit California colleges and universities can be found online at aiccu.edu. For articulation agreements between SMC and some of these institutions see smc.edu/articulation.
